Chapter 1

Everyday life

Jack was an everyday person like everybody else. Today he woke up for school and was getting ready he ate breakfast and then rounded his things up for school. Jack was off to school when the strangest thing happens. He saw someone that he never saw in the community before.

She vanished but she had one distinctive feature was that she had gorgeous dark brown hair. Jack went to school and at lunch he was thinking about the girl he saw earlier. After school ended, Jack didn't go straight home like he normally would. He went to the market where the girl he never seen before went. After he went to the market, he saw that the girl was not there, so he went home. When he got home, he saw his parents in the living room mad Jack was wondering why they were mad, but he started to climb the stairs, as soon jack started climbing his mother called his name "Jack come in the living room please." So, Jack went into the living room and sat down in the chair.

His mother asked, "where did you go after school today?" and Jack lied and said "I took the long way home" even though he knows where he went, he just did not want his parents to find out what he was doing.

So, Jack went to his room to do his homework.

The building of the car

When jack look at the prints and asked Drift Of Death if we are building a 69'-70's charger we would need a 8 cylinder engine not a 6 cylinder because the amount of acceleration we are trying to get to wont get there with a 6 cylinder so Drift Of Death look at the prints and said no, the prints are right jack with this old car we would need a 6-cylinder engine. Lex looked at her mother and jack she was happy for both of them getting along so well as she grabbed her spray paint and gas-mask and walked out to a white wall outside of the shop with the moon rising with the night sky. Jack then asked Drift Of Death what's the back story of Lex. The story is tough it had left scars for me and Lex, but I'm gone to tell you the story to help you understand more about me and Lex

It was 11:58 P.M she was wondering where he was then she heard roaring down the street then he started to slow down then stopped in front of the shop in the left lane then rolled his window then she rolled her window down and said that's a nice 2017 Chevrolet Camaro ZL1 now we both start, here and headed to the golden gate bridge and back the first one back wins. They both are in their cars the countdown begins 3..... 2..... 1..... Then they were riding the golden gate bridge side by side they look at each other and smiled then they weaved through traffic and when they hit the end of the bridge they drift around the Corner to the other side then start to bolt while weaving throughout traffic and after they left the golden gate bridge.

Tune up blitz used his NOS and got a head for a distance and was about to win but Drifter Of Death came out of no where and used her NOS and won the race then they both got out of the car and tune up blitz said a bet is a bet. Then she pulled out her phone then started to record the video and tune up blitz said Drift Of Death had a more agile car than mine the she stood her phone on his car than said about that date I love to have one then kissed him and said see you later. Then he left with a loud roar leaving her shop. Then she went into his shop and changed into her sexy lingerie went to bed. The next day Drift Of Death

So, after a while they were starting to teach Lex how to spray paint a car. So, they put her in a bio-hazard suit then she came in where they spray paint the car and they showed her how to do it right with putting on the tarps to cover up what's not getting painted. Then Tune Up Blitz showed how to paint it then Lex gave it a try so Drift Of Death assisted her then they saw she was made to do this. They waited for the car to dry. She started to tear up and burst out of the garage crashed to the ground and screamed in pain. Then Lex went outside and asked the mom what was wrong then she came clean "your father is dead." then Lex fell to her mother shoulder and started to cry with her. Then she told Lex "everything is gone to be ok." Then she realized she still had the present that her dad gave her in her hand while she tried to stop crying, she opened the present she saw the note then she read it out loud.

half an hour later, jack called Lex over to the laptop with her body splattered oil over her body and clothes. She said what's up, jack said I'm thinking navy blue paint and black decals for the bottom of the doors and a set going from the front bumper to the trunk. Now how tinted do you want the windows? Lex then said I want them black-out so no one can see us. Alright now I'm thinking a duck tail spoiler then a spoiler for the bumper then a black hood and window covers one for the rear window and two for the side windows before the door and black rims then jack then realized I almost forgot a key factor for our Camero NOS. Perfect jack go ahead and order the stuff and then while you pick up the parts can you get some groceries please. ground and installed the new engine to the car. Then Lex and jack installed the chrome hood and left it up because Lex grabbed the keys and fired it up and it roared the sound shook the garage a little. By evening jack was spray painting the car navy blue. After he finished spraying the car, they ate some subs and drank some pop they went back at it. They put the decals on the car and then the spoilers on the bumper, rear window, and the two-little side windows on the car and then it was complete. And Lex said let's see who the better racer is so Lex got into the Camaro and jack got into the charger and they both made there way onto the track and they both said one and done.
